

ANNUAL IMPROVEMENTS AND CONFORMING AND CONSEQUENTIAL AMENDMENTS TO DOMESTIC ASSURANCE STANDARDS

This Standard was issued on 5 May 2022 by the New Zealand Auditing and Assurance Standards Board of the External Reporting Board pursuant to section 12(b) of the Financial Reporting Act 2013.

This Standard is secondary legislation for the purposes of the Legislation Act 2019, and pursuant to section 27(1) of the Financial Reporting Act 2013 takes effect on 2 June 2022.

An auditor that is required to apply this Standard is required to apply the Standard in accordance with the effective date which is set out in Part C. However, early adoption is permitted.

In finalising this Standard, the New Zealand Auditing and Assurance Standards Board has carried out appropriate consultation in accordance with section 22(1) of the Financial Reporting Act 2013.

This Standard has been issued to reflect the conforming and consequential amendments necessary as a result of the new and revised quality management standards and to make other minor amendments to domestic assurance standards.

A: INTRODUCTION

This Standard contains annual improvements and conforming and consequential amendments to domestic assurance standards as a result of the new and revised quality management standards. A tabular presentation format has been used to show the annual improvements and conforming and consequential amendments to the standards. Underline and strikethrough are used to indicate proposed changes.

The annual improvements and conforming and consequential amendments affect the following standards and are arranged in the following manner:

SAE 3100 (Revised), paragraph 8	An assurance engagement performed in accordance with ISAE (NZ) 3000 (Revised) measures or evaluates the underlying subject matter against suitable criteria. In a compliance engagement the assurance practitioner determines whether compliance requirements have been met by evaluating the subject matter against the compliance requirements, using the criteria. The criteria may be the compliance requirements, or a subset thereof. A table explaining the terminology applied in this SAE is contained in Appendix 2.
SAE 3100 (Revised), paragraph 9	Compliance with ISAE (NZ) 3000 (Revised) requires, among other things, compliance with the provisions of Professional and Ethical Standard 1 International Code of Ethics for Assurance Practitioners (including International Independence Standards) (New Zealand) or other professional requirements, or requirements in law or regulation, that are at least as demanding¹. It also requires the lead assurance practitioner² to be a member of a firm that applies Professional and Ethical Standard 3 (Amended)³ or requirements in law or regulation, that are at least as demanding related to assurance engagements. ² The term “lead assurance practitioner” is referred to in Professional and Ethical Standard 1 (Revised) and Professional and Ethical Standard 3 (Amended) as the “engagement partner”.

NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph 15	In order to plan and conduct a review of financial statements, a recently appointed auditor, who has not yet performed an audit of the annual financial statements in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (New Zealand), shall obtain an understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of including its internal control, as it relates to the preparation of both the annual and interim or other financial statements. (Ref: Para. A13)
NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph A4	Through performing the audit of the annual financial statements, the auditor obtains an understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of including its internal control. When the auditor is engaged to review the financial statements, under paragraph 14, the auditor needs to update this understanding through enquiries made in the course of the review, to assist the auditor in focusing the enquiries to be made and the analytical and other review procedures to be applied. An assurance practitioner who is engaged to perform a review of the financial statements, and who is not the auditor of the entity, does not perform the review in accordance with NZ SRE 2410 (Revised)*, as the assurance practitioner ordinarily does not have the same understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of including its internal control, as the auditor of the entity. Although other International Standards on Auditing (New Zealand) do not apply to review engagements, they include guidance which may be helpful to auditors performing reviews covered by this NZ SRE 2410 (Revised).
NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph A6	The elements of quality control management that are relevant to an individual engagement include leadership responsibilities for managing and achieving quality on the engagement, relevant ethical requirements, acceptance and continuance of client relationships and specific engagements, assignment of engagement teams engagement

NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph A9	Procedures for a Review of the Financial Statements Understanding the Entity and its Environment, the Applicable Financial Reporting Framework and the Entity's Including its System of Internal Control Under ISA (NZ) 315 (Revised 2019) Identifying and Assessing the Risks of Material Misstatement through Understanding the Entity and Its Environment, the auditor who has audited the entity's financial statements for one or more annual periods has obtained an understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of including its internal control, as it relates to the preparation of the annual financial statements, that was sufficient to conduct the audit. In planning a review of the financial statements, the auditor needs to update this understanding. The auditor also needs to obtain a sufficient understanding of the entity's system of internal control as it relates to the preparation of the financial statements subject to review, as it may differ from internal control as it relates to the preparation of the annual financial statements. (Ref: Para. 14)
NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph A10	The auditor needs to use the understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of including its internal control, to determine the enquiries to be made and the analytical and other review procedures to be applied, and to identify the particular events, transactions or assertions to which enquiries may be directed or analytical or other review procedures applied. (Ref: Para. 14)
NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph A11	The procedures performed by the auditor to update the understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of including its internal control, ordinarily include the following: ... (j) enquiring of management and of other appropriate individuals within the entity about the effect of changes in the entity's business activities;
NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph A19	A review ordinarily does not require tests of the accounting records through inspection, observation or confirmation. 	procedures, rather than corroborating information obtained concerning matters relating to the financial statements. The auditor's understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of including its internal control, the results of the risk assessments relating to the preceding audit and the auditor's consideration of materiality as it relates to the financial statements, affects the nature and extent of the enquiries made, and analytical and other review procedures applied. (Ref: Para. 17)
NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph A20	The auditor ordinarily performs the following procedures: ... (xv) knowledge of any actual or suspected non-compliance with laws and regulations that could have a material effect on the financial statements. If the auditor becomes aware of any actual or suspected non-compliance with laws and regulations ISA (NZ) 250 (Revised) Consideration of Laws and Regulations in an Audit of Financial Statements provides guidance.
NZ SRE 2410 (Revised), paragraph A21	The auditor may perform many of the review procedures before or simultaneously with the entity's preparation of the financial statements. For example, it may be practicable to update the understanding of the entity and its environment, the applicable financial reporting framework and the entity's system of including its internal control, and begin reading applicable minutes before the end of the period. Performing some of the review procedures earlier in the period also permits early identification and consideration of significant accounting matters affecting the financial statements.
